Ali, Kwita, Omar and Boubker are street kids. Since they left Dib and his gang, they have been living on the portside of Casablanca in constant fear of Dib's revenge. Ali wants to become a sailor - when he was living with his mother, a prostitute, he used to listen to a fairy tale about a sailor discovering a miracle island with two suns. Instead of finding his island in the dream, Ali and his friends are confronted with Dib's gang and things are getting serious.
