

The Foreign Language Technology Center Presents Foreign Film Nites!

BREAD AND TULIPS

Wednesday, December 10, 2008 @ 5:45 PM

358 Manoogian Hall

Introduction by Elena Past

Dept. of CMLLC

A charming romantic comedy from director Silvio Soldini. A forty-ish married woman who is abandoned at a rest stop during a family bus trip suddenly feels that something is missing from her life. She hitches her way toward Venice, calling her husband only occasionally to tell him that she is taking her own short vacation and that he will have to take care of the house and their two teenage sons. But a day or so stretches into a longer period of time as she finds herself making a new group of friends, getting a job, and beginning to care for an oddly appealing waiter.

114 min Italian with English Subtitles
Released in 2000 in Italy